

Domenic Marino,

PwC Partner, National Forensics & Crisis Management Leader

Domenic is the leader of PwC's Canadian Forensics, Disputes and Crisis practice. Based in Toronto, Domenic has 20 years of experience helping clients prepare for, respond to and emerge stronger from unplanned events. His specialties include assisting corporate boards and management, law firms and non-for-profit entities in the areas of crisis preparedness, financial crime, and forensic accounting/investigations.

He has served as partner-in-charge and conducted some of PwC's largest and most complex international and domestic forensic accounting assignments. Domenic has been the main point partner on various large crisis response mandates including assisting clients with ransomware viruses which have completely halted operations and required developing a governance structure and crisis plan to bring operations back online. He also recently assisted a client in the financial services sector that was forced to shut down operations due to the nefarious actions of an employee where PII was stolen. The mandate which spanned approximately two months involved creating a crisis response plan to work with key stakeholders and bring the organization back online.
